Sheriff Cracks Adult-Juvenile Theft Ring

SEEKS DONOVAN'S SEAT — John B. Dail, Lemon Grove insurance counselor and former deputy treasurer of the State in 1959, said he will be a democratic candidate for the office of state assemblyman for the 77th district in the June primary elections. The post is held by Richard Donovan, an attorney.

Dail, a life-long Democrat, served a year as deputy state treasurer under State Treasurer Bert A. Betts during 1959. He resigned the post to return to private business in 1960. "The 77th Assembly district is a very important area, both locally and statewide. Under the proper leadership this district can play a very important part in the growth of San Diego County and in the vital development of the Unified Port District," Dail said.

Dail said he made his decision to enter the race after having received strong encouragement from many leaders of the various cities and communities of the 77th district.

Dail is married, lives at 3240 Olive st. in Lemon Grove and has three daughters, two of whom are in college and one in high school.

Glue Sniffing Charged; Court Orders Restitution

Two adults and seven juveniles have been rounded up in Spring Valley and Casa de Oro areas by the sheriff's department and charged with perpetrating more than a dozen thefts in the east county area.

The Sheriff's Department said it was hopeful of having broken the back of a theft ring that has been operating here for the past three months.

The adults were found guilty in El Cajon Municipal Court Monday and fined $25 each, placed on probation and ordered to make restitution to the victims.

Found guilty were David Nicholson, 20, and Darrell Nicholson, 18, both of 10707 Jamacha rd., Spring Valley. The seven juveniles were from various Spring Valley addresses.

Listed in the loot were two automobile transmissions; seven cases of beer; two batteries; one radiator; a half dozen tires; gasoline from various area autos; 34 quarts of oil from

Surge Cracks 5 Water Mains In Lemon Grove

A "surge" in the water mains in Lemon Grove caused district users unrest, the water works workers unhappiness and the Fire Department a dry run Tuesday morning.

A workman, adjusting a valve on the district's Costa Bella ave. tank, caused the surge.

The surge tripped the fire alarm at Lemon Grove Bowlero. Units under the Assistant Chief Fred Dixon quickly figured out the trouble. But they had to make another run after a second surge tripped the alarm again.

Under the added pressure, mains were cracked at Massachusetts and Hoffman, New Jersey near Broadway, Olive near Broadway, Golden ave. near Kempf, and Elroy near Canton. More than 15 Helix Irrigation District workmen under Helix Assistant Superintendent Eddie Newman spent part of the day repairing the main breaks.

Steele Canyon Residents Ask One-Acre Zoning

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — An interim zoning plan for the Steele Canyon east of La Presa and south of El Cajon was ordered Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

Petitions containing the signatures of 67 people who said they own property in the area asked for residential zoning for the area with one-acre minimum building sites.

The petitions also protested a proposed wrecking yard said to be planned for the property of Mrs. Maxine Godfrey.

No application has been filed with the County Planning Department for any special use permit for an auto wrecking yard for any property in the area.

Two Local Areas Connect To Sewers

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The Board of Supervisors approved two sanitation district annexations this week.

An area in the L.G. District in the McArthur dr. area petitioned for by J. D. Harter and in S.V., J.R. Kimball petitioned for an area in the Harness st. area.

SIGNED UP — The sign goes up at Broadway and Olive streets in Lemon Grove pointing out that the safety lane is about ready to start.

Autos will be checked and windshield stickers attached Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The lane is being run on the parking lot area of the former Don Diego market.

The lane will be operated from 10 to 2 Thursday and Friday and 10 to 4 on Saturday. The service is free. It will not be mandatory to have repairs made.

Shown installing the sign are Don Johns, chairman of the merchants division of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce under whose auspices the check lane is being held, and Jim Dunkle, local sgin maker.

Little Improvement Made In Welfare-D.A. Hassle

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The County Welfare Board made an attempt Monday to establish better communications between the District Attorney's office and the Department of Public Welfare, which resulted in only partial success.

District Attorney Don Keller, who charged that "rampant fraud" would result unless his watchdog unit was increased, agreed to work more closely with the welfare directors, but implied little hope of success.

Homer Detrich, welfare director, complained to the board that he had never heard directly from Keller on any of his complaints that the "watchdog" unit was being frustrated by the welfare department.

Keller outlined instances where his investigators had informed welfare case workers of possible frauds and been advised "to mind their own business". He admitted that he had never brought this to the attention of Detrich.

William Brotherton, chairman of the welfare board, said that Keller had not been doing his full duty if he had not notified Detrich.

"If I find cases of fraud, I'll prosecute," said the district attorney, but failed to explain why he had not contacted Detrich.

Keller characterized the latest state welfare legislation as the "worst fraud ever perpetrated on the State of California". He also called it "liberalistic" and "socialistic".

He said that his "publicity statements" acted as deterrents to misuse of welfare funds.

"If people know that they are going to have someone looking over their shoulders," said Keller, "they are going to think before trying fraud".

The Rev. Melvin Harter, welfare board member, tried to get Keller to state exactly what had been the reason for his stated "frustration" with the welfare department.

Keller said he thought it was just a difference of philorophy.

Brotherton commented that it would have been better to ascribe this as the cause rather than "impugning the motives of other department heads" such as Detrich.

Water District Drops Bond Election Plans

The Otay Water District board of directors voted 3-1 Monday to table a resolution that would have called a $2,800,000 bond election for 28,000 acres in the district to build a new reservoir and a filtration plant.

Part of the La Presa County Water District would have been included. The development would have been handled as a Improvement District project.

More than 100 persons attended the meeting which was held Monday afternoon in the offices of the La Presa-Otay District at Jamacha and Sweetwater Springs blvd. in Spring Valley. Most of them came to register objections.

The water district proposed to build the new reservoir and the filtration plant on District property at Jamacha junction. No annexations were planned, said Harry Baker, general manager of combined districts.

The District proposed to levy a 50c a month a meter service charge and 20c for each $100 assessed valuation as a tax for the 30-year obligation. Population of the improvement district would have been 12,000 persons.

Voting to table the issue were John B. Allen, Bert Witacre and Fritz Roll. Pushing the proposal were Ralph Chapman and Board Chairman J. Schutte.

Baker said the issue, in another form, would be presented for public hearing later in the year.

Ramona Freeway Routing Possible School Hardship

A severe hardship to Parkway Junior High School would result if a proposed routing of Ramona Freeway were adopted along the present right of way for Fletcher Parkway, a school official said.

Dr. Ted Dixon, associate superintendent of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District said the freeway along the Fletcher Parkway right of way would take three acres away from the 24-acre site of the Parkway school.

The proposed freeway route is one of two which have been proposed by the state division of Highways. It has been designated as route A.

Route B would put the freeway about half a mile west of Fletcher Parkway and parallel to it.

Dixon said the loss of three acres of school land was the major objection to Route A by the trustees of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District when they voted unanimously Monday night to support Route B of the proposed Ramona Freeway through Fletcher Hills.

Dixon said the three acres that would be taken from the school if the "A" routing were approved would be from the physical education field and would not include any buildings.

The school district joined with

Safety Check Lane Starts Three-Day Operation Here

Safety is the password this week in Lemon Grove.

Members of the automotive industry are joining forces there to make motorists more safety-conscious than ever before. The project is a free safety check lane at Broadway and Olive streets.

The L.G. Chamber of Commerce's Merchant's Division in co-operation with the California Highway Patrol, the Sheriff's Department and the San Diego Safety Council is setting up the lane.

The lane will be operated by local men Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 10 until 2 except Saturday when the lane will be open until 4. Each car passing through the line will be issued a windshield sticker. Checking is free and there is no requirement to have cars repaired or adjusted, said Don Johns, chairman of the Merchants group.

Pat Grace, Safety chairman, said Calif. Highway Patrol officers will operate a booth at which they will answer questions regarding the Motor Vehicles Code. A car which will have been involved in a wreck in this area this week will be towed to the lane for display purposes.

Grace said the object of the lane is to "let people know we have these services in Lemon Grove and we are willing to use our knowledge and experience to make them safer."

Johns said, "We also want to make people safety conscious. As members of the auto industry we should keep safety a matter of prime concern.

The California Highway Patrol assigned officers John Annis and Edward Widholm to the lane. They will be available for questions concerning the motor vehicle code.

Television Station KOGO will operate a mobile unit, telecasting pictures of the lane as local drivers go through.

First in line will be Assemblyman Dick Donovan, who has authorized several safety Bills in the State Legislature.

On the committee, in addition to Grace, Johns, and the CHP officers are Sheriff's Deputy Sgt. Wayne Bailey of the Sheriff's safety division, and R. T. Fields, assistant director of the S.D. County Traffic Safety Council. The County Council check list will be used to check wipers, horn, mirrors, all window glass, tires, mufflers, lights, brakes, and steering mechanism.

Others on the committee are: John Dail, Jack Durham, Martin Heil, Asst. Chief Fred Dixon of the L.G. Fire Department and Pat Pathiakis.

Also: Molly Mouillesseaux, Clarence Scheidle, Norman Flannery, Dave Rutter, Dick Canfield and Fire Chief Pappy Hensley.

Spring Valley Incorporation Group Asks Time Extension

The County Board of Supervisors Tuesday granted another month time to Spring Valley residents to circulate petitions to get enough names to call a Spring Valley election on incorporation.

The request was made by Betty Seymour Robinson, a spokesman for the proponents. Supervisors extended the time to March 18. A previous extension was to have expired Monday.

Proponents said Tuesday they have about 1,000 signatures toward a goal of nearly 3,000. They must obtain the signatures of 25 per cent of the property owners and the owners of 25 per cent of the assessed valuation to bring the matter to a vote.

Frank Armstrong, spokesman for a similar move in Lemon Grove said Wednesday he will ask for a similar extension.

The Lemon Grove group, which filed a notice of intention to circulate the petitions the same day as the Spring Valley committee, has about 1,800 signatures with a goal of 2,600.

Post Office Closed Saturday Next Week

Saturday, Feb. 22, will be observed as a legal holiday here by the post office. There will be no window service nor mail deliveries made, except Special Delivery mail.

BURGLARIZED — Claude Sarvis, manager of the Highlander points to jimy marks on the store's door after suits and haberdashery items valued at more than $5,000 were the loot early Tuesday at the Highlande'rs store at 7865 Broadway, Lemon Grove. Sarvis said that burglars had used a crowbar about dawn.

Sheriff's detectives say a trio of burglars have been operating on the west coast taking men's clothing for loot and selling it for about one-third its original value.

Sarvis said insurance would cover the loss.

Sex Between The Paperback Covers

Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes, who runs the Assembly District neighboring that of our own Dick Donovan's, revealed last week that Lee Harvey Oswald, the suspected assassinator of President Kennedy, was a reader of paperback books dealing with sex and violence.

That Oswald was only 24 when he met his death at the hands of Jack Ruby is good reason to believe that pornography influenced his life and eventually incited him to become capable of killing a human.

Assemblyman Barnes submits a list of names of 118 paperback books available by one distributing firm in California. He charges that the entire list is obscene and that they included stories that "publicize adultry, homosexuality, lesbianism, wife-swapping, incest, sodomy, bestiality, prostitution, graft, use of Formation Agency To Get Test On Power From N.C.

National City council in a 4-1 vote Tuesday night questioned the powers of the new county Local Agency Formation Commission.

The agency had placed conditions on an annexation to National City in the Lincoln Acres area.

Council decided it was "questionable" whether the agency had powers to impose conditions. A test case of the issue is planned.

The agency was formed by Legislature to bring orderly development in annexations and incorporations.

The agency had made part of Lincoln Acres annexation subject to an election.

The National City Council opined that the agency would be circumventing the state law if it has power to order an election.

"State law allows annexations in uninhabited areas without an election," the council argued.

Girl Scout Chatter

By Mary D. Giacinto

Girl Scouts! Brownies! Cookies! They were just everywhere! You'll have to admit it appeared so this past weekend. You had to be either sick in bed or out of town to have missed their enthusiastic sales presentation. Through our Girl Scout did rather well in their cookie sales, they would like to remind you that their delicious wares will be available until Feb. 22. Happy eating everyone.

Barbara Kendall's Junior Girl Scout troop No. 1104 and Mrs. Godfrey's Golden Avenue troop are jointly having their Scout's Own on the 22nd of this month at Colina Del Sol Park, 54th and University. (A Scout's Own is an inspirational time of sharing.) Their theme, "Thinking Day", is also celebrated by Girl Scouts and guides around the world on that day. Both troops will neatly combine three requirements for the Sign of the Arrow Badge which are six eagles and more. To highten interest each Girl Scout will bring a gaily wrapped box-lunch. They will exchange it with a Scout from the opposite troop and in turn eat with her while making a new friend. Sounds like fun.

Here is a real S.O.S.! WANTED — GIRL SCOUT OR LEADER UNIFORMS! It may be a little early for Spring cleaning, but won't you check your closet or chests for uniforms not in use? There is a dire need for them. Should you locate one, or two, or three, would you pleace call Mary Hall, neighborhood chairman at 466-2595? She will see that they are picked up.

School Hopes For 'Permanent' Definition

The Lemon Grove school board is still trying to learn what the law is on the use of school facilities for a church.

The Brooklyn Heights Baptist church was permitted last year to use L.G. Junior High school auditorium on Sunday for con ducting church services. It is still using it.

Such activity is permitted by law on a "temporary basis" said Byron Netzley, district su perintendent.

When the Board attempted to find out what "temporary" means to the lawmakers last year, they got an explanation from the Legislative Council that it means "the opposite o permanent".

Netzley said that he had been informed by the State Attorney General's office that a new in terpretation is now bing used. The Board instructed Netzley to have county counsel acquire the ruling and give his interpreta tion to it.

In other action the Board agreed to set a list of conditions by which the County would be given an easement of Kempf st. for widening the road.

The County will be asked to relocate the chain link fence replace the sidewalk, and land scape the hill along school pro perty. The County asks for five feet of land. When the school was built the district deeded 10 feet to the county and put in the sidewalks at district expense.

Juvenile Problem Cited By Judge in Speech Here

"We have a fine place to live, but we also have a lot of problems that need solving," Judge Earl B. Gilliam told mem bers of the Lemon Grove Men's Club Friday.

Gilliam, a young Negro law yer, became a judge last Janu ary.

He told the Men's Club about his background leading to his being named a judge and he discussed some local problems that face the people of this area.

One of the problems he cited is the juvenile problem. "I have interest in young people be cause I have two children my self," the 32-year-old man said.

"When a group of young peo ple gets together they have a tendency to disregard the law," he said.

To help solve this problem, he said, ministers and others in the San Diego area have begun big brother organizations which works with the probation de partment.

"We're concerned somewhat in our neighborhood with schools now," he said. Child ren are not taking advantage of the opportunity offered them. he said.

Gilliam said a comment typi cal of many young people is "I went to school but I didn't get it". Gilliam said children must be taught to take advantage of their opportunities.

Gilliam was born in New Mex ico and grew up in San iDego. In 1953 he was graduated from San Diego State with a degree in business administration.

"Then I went to San Francis co and worked part time and went to a full-time law school. I came back to San Diego in 1957," he said.

For 3½ years he served as an investigator and deputy dist rict attorney under Don Kel ler. Then he went into private practice for 2½ years prior to becoming a judge.

Dump Near Sharp Ranch Won't Hurt Area-Weiler

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — Cy Weiler, director of the County Public Works Department said Tuesday that he does not see how county plans for a sanitary fill near the Sharp ranch at Jamacha Junction could do much harm to surrounding pro perty.

He said the county has al most completed the acquisition of 40 acres north of Sweetwater River, south of Jamacha rd. and west of Highway 94.

Residents of the area, mostly to the west, have expressed concern over the county plans although they are more directly worried about an automobile wrecking yard.

Weiler said the county was in condemnation proceedings for the 40 acres but settled the case and that the land transfer is nearly completed. He said the county road department also has ten acres on Highway 94.

The county plans to use dirt from the road department land to cover the refuse in the sani tary fill, making both site us able. Weiler said that the coun ty now plans to use the 40 acres as a park and that there had been discussion of expanding the 40 acres to create a regional park.

He said that using the sani tary fill is several years away and that it may depend on state plans to build Highway 94 to freeway standards to Campo.

That construction, he said, is also several years in the future.

The county land is in a can yon near an old quarry with little construction around it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

What a thrill to read the letter in your last week's issue by Dorothy M. Bradshaw, a local teacher. At last, a teacher who considers "principle" as well as "principal". I wonder how many readers realize the spiritual and moral fortitude it took for this teacher to stand true to the beliefs of the majority of American parents, as well as her own? In earlier times when people lived on farms and were more or less self-supporting, they would "speak out" freely. Now, many good people are "muzzled" fearing loss of employment and livelihood. I want to commend her and wish all our children were lucky enough to have her for a teacher, guide, and inspiration.

I, too, attended both meetings of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board discussion on prayer. How frustrating it was to see several hundred parents told "no" to simple non-denominational prayers (and the everlasting influence thereof,) to satisfy the whims of a minute minority, who wouldn't even stand up in the face of these parents to voice their puny objections.

There have always been a very few atheists among us, as today, and they were never converted or disturbed all the many years that school prayers were part of our American way of life. Why is it suddenly so crucial to them? In "protecting the rights of a minority", as the so-called do-gooders say, they are blindly trampling underfoot these SAME rights of the majority. Could a home be run this way? Could all of the family concede to the wishes of a petulant child who demanded they all go to bed at 5:30? What about Vegetarians? Aren't their senses being offended when school cafeterias offer meat? This foolish "reasoning" could go on and on. What about the Communists and their like? They are avowed enemies of religion and belief in God. Are people willing to give them one more foot in the door? (Those who pooh-pooh this treat, just count the times the words communist or RED appear in your paper, DAILY.)

Children, like grownups, respond to the standards set by the groups where they are. Is religion to be some secret thing taught behind the closed door of the home, like personal hygiene? A child restricted from mentioning prayer in school will also be "conditioned" to never mention it in public. It will NOT be an important part of their lives. They will not be able to be curbed by the thought of others judging their actions by a mutual moral core. How will they know their fellow man HAS a moral code?

Dr. Padfield and Mrs. Dewey on the School Board, showed their quiet, sure dedicated belief in God and "witnessing" for Him, while the other members repeatedly had to assure themselves and the audience out loud, that they too, were Christians. That brought to mind a couple of thoughts from the Bible: "By their FRUITS you shall know them". And, "It is better that they had a millstone around their neck and had never been born, then to offend one of my little ones". To me "offend" means to rob them of their spiritual heritage, in the case of the prayer ban.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Leo E. McDade,
8288 Lincoln Street
Lemon Grove, Calif.

Dear Editor:

Recent news in regard to dismantling of our military bases indicate that the Defense Department is rapidly carrying out the disarmament of the United States. We are now in the second stage of disarmament.

On page nine of "Freedom From War", Department of State publication 7277, we read "The dismantling or the conversion to peaceful uses certain military bases and facilities wherever located." This in plain English is DISARMAMENT.

Read "Economic Impact of Disarmament", in U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency Publication 2. Compare with daily news reports. News releases tell us the reasons for dismantling our military bases are economic, and yet we are told in the same releases that almost the identical amount of founds saved on this will be used to strengthen the Peace Corps. (Will this be the U.N. Peace Force?)

We are also told that employment will be found for those whose jobs will be terminated. (Where is the saving?) See publication 2 REEMPLOYMENT — "Economic impact of Disarmament".

The only conclusion one can draw from all of this is that disarmament is being carried out under the pretense of economy.

Americans Wake Up? Protest this!

Write your senators. Write to your representatives.

Write to your mayors, governors, police chiefs and sheriffs.

Talk, talk to everyone you meet. Call up your friends. Get the message through. Tomorrow may be too late. We will be living under the U.N. Peace Force!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Ira Barthelemy

the El Cajon City Council, the El Cajon and La Mesa Chambers of Commerce in support of alternate "B".

The La Mesa City Council backed route "A".

Dixon said the district wanted to be sure there would be adequate sound barriers between the freeway and the schools along its route. The two schools which would be near the freeway are Parkway Junior High School and Brier Patch Elementary.

SCHOOL SALARIES

Increases in administrative salary schedules were approved by the Grossmont Governing Board last week. The increases were termed by Superintendent Lewis F. Smith as being below average for similar positions in other large high school district and unified school district in California. The schedules are effective for the current school year with the exception of the district superintendent's schedule which will take effect in the 1964-65 school year.

UTILITY REFUNDS

San Diego Gas and Electric Company's electronic computer has begun the complicated task of preparing refunds for thousands of the utility's customers.

With a green light recently from the California Public Utilities Commission, the way was cleared for the company to begin returning $4,642,854.26 to customers. The average residential customer who uses both eletricity and gas will get $8.14 in credit on his bill for the cycle that begins March 5.

The refunds resulted from settlement of several rate cases against El Paso Natural Gas Company, covering a period from Jan. 1, 1958 through Oct. 31, 1963.

COUNTY POPULATION UP 1.6%

dope, teenage rapes, sex murders, and devil worship."

"In these books the sanctity of marriage and the home is ridiculed," Barnes said.

Just for the heck of it we checked the titles to see which words were used most often in the books' titles to get across quickly the idea that these books were about sex.

Two words came out neck and neck. "Sin" won with 29 title references of Barnes list of 118, followed closely by "Lust" with 28. There was as punny a one as we ever saw titled "Lust Weekend. In the "Sin" category, no one seemed willing to stoop to "Sin Diego."

Prices Vary On Single Item

Who's doing what to whom in the struggle for your retail dollars was revealed by the Better Business Bureau the other day in a report to members.

The Bureau took a toy item and made the study as to what the so-called "regular" price was. The study showed the wide variety of "sale" prices, too.

The item was a plastic-forming device developed by a nationally known manufacturer of toy items.

A chain drug firm advertised the item as having a "list price" of $16.95. A department store had it listed "regularly" $16.00. While there seemed some confusion among sellers as to the "list" price, the wide scale of selling prices must have confounded the shopper.

Here is the comparison given by the BBB:

Drug Store "A"	$8.45
Dept. Store "B"	9.88
Dime Store "C"	8.55
Dept. Store "D"	8.55
Dept. Store "E"	9.97
Dept. Store "F"	8.87
Discount Store "G"	9.97
Discount Store "H"	8.55
Catalog House "I"	8.55
Catalog House "J"	8.88

One thing the study didn't confuse anyone on: that's the fact that discount houses get a full mark up, at least on this item.

Smog Control Is Under Way

Very soon now will come the first crackdown by the California Highway Patrol on the installation of smog devices.

Commercial trucks and pick-up trucks registered as commercial vehicles will be required to have crankcase emission devices installed and operating this year. The only passenger cars required to have the devices in 1964 are those whose ownership is transferred this year.

Many owners will honestly declare they didn't know what the regulations were - - - but the rules are so simple that it will embarrass some of us to plead guilty.

For example: If the license number's last digit is "1", the vehicle is due to have the device installed in January. That month is all but passed and if your truck has a license ending in "1" and a smog control device isn't installed, you will soon be in violation. The same type of deal will affect passenger cars in 1965.

The CHP has, in its wisdom, seen fit to ask that the California Motor Vehicle Control Board not require them to enforce the smog device law until April 1. At that time all trucks, as described above, and all passenger cars whose ownership has been transferred will be in violation and subject to citation by the CHP if the license number ends in 1, 2 or 3.

Each month thereafter, the next higher number must have the installation.

These devices are being installed now for $14 up to $20 at CHP-approved stations. It will cost another $2.50 to keep the devices operative. Authorized stations are now listed with the CHP and names and addresses of nearest stations will be given to motorists calling the CHP at 283-6331.

When the law affects passenger cars next year, only those of rare make of those manufactured before 1950 will be exempt. Motorcycles likewise will be excused.

Owners may install an approved type of device on a do-it-yourself basis but it must pass an inspection at a CHP-authorized station.

In 1965 passenger cars will get the same treatment as trucks.

From time to time as the list becomes available this publication will publish CHP-approved installation-inspection stations.

Enforcement ultimately will be by stopping cars on the road to check stickers or by checking parked cars. The enforcement will be heavily enforced the first two years of the program to better bring all vehicles under smog control, CHP officers said.

During 1964, Pacific Telephone's construction program in California will be the biggest in the company's history, amounting to $419 million. This money will help to create thousands of jobs, not only in the telephone industry but in construction and manufacturing, and among the thousands of suppliers we do business with in hundreds of communities throughout the state. Our $419 million program is a big factor in the state's economy—and another way we're making sure that telephone service is keeping up with California's growth.

Interesting fact: During a three-minute long distance call, you can say all the words in an average two page letter. For example, if you talk slowly, you'll say about 450 words. When you talk a "blue streak," the number of words zooms to about 750. In comparison, Lincoln used 267 words in his Gettysburg Address. If spoken over the phone, it'd be well within a three-minute period. So, fast or slow, you can say a lot for very little when you call long distance.

Here's something you might want to keep in mind. When you need help in an emergency, our Operator is as near as your telephone and ready to help—anytime.

Nowadays, coin telephones come in several styles such as our new walk-up type shown at left with telephone man Dave Finch. In addition, some California cities and towns have drive-up phones you can use to make a call without getting out of your car. These, plus the familiar indoor and outdoor coin phones make up the more than 104,000 now in use throughout the state. This helps make sure that you'll always have a telephone handy, whenever you're away from home.

Here is a column by veteran writer Pete Odens of Imperial Valley. An interesting historian, his columns, which we will publish from time to time, will concern history of Southern California.

by Peter Odens

COMPTON, CALIFORNIA — Tragedy and comedy — how often in our daily lives do we find these very opposites side by side!

This is the story of the battle of Dominguez which happened during the Mexican war of the 1840's. Or rather, it is the story of a little cannon which, after it had almost rotted away in the brush, knew its day of glory.

A small party of some fifty Californians under Jose Antonio Carrillo were trying to ward off a large attacking force of Americans under Captain Archibald Gillespie. The Americans had arrived in San Pedro on October 7, 1846 and were marching toward Los Angeles, an attacking force of almost 400 men, well armed with most modern weapons.

The Californians, on the other side, were equipped with only a few muskets, pistols and their lances. It seemed a hopeless task. But Carrillo remembered the little cannon which one Inocencia Reyes had hidden in the brush. This was before Fremont, the "Pathfinder", and Commodore Stockton had taken Los Angeles. When the Californians had recaptured the "pueblo", the old cannon was rescued, and Carrillo hoped would help defeat the Americans who were advancing once again.

Violent Recoil

It was a four-pounder, mounted on an old wagon and pulled by a mule. It had a tremendous recoil and, according to at least one chronicler, was as dangerous to the men who manned it as to the enemy. Generally, the cannon was touched off with a cigarette, upon which the crew would run for cover to avoid the recoil. True, there was only little ammunition and the Californians had to resort to some home-made powder manufactured in San Gabriel. But they made the most of it as they met the invading forces on the Dominguez Rancho near Compton.

The mule, it must be reported, did not enjoy the battle in the least. As soon as the first shot was fired, it heehawed violently, kicked up its heels and disappeared. But Carrillo had not counted on the mule, anyway. He had some of his horsemen attach cowsides and other heavy objects to their ropes and, on horseback, drag them across the sandy parts of the ranch. This whirled up an enormous amount of dust and made the Americans believe that they were facing a large force of Californians.

Now, the stage was set. The cannon was fired and, by means of a reata, was quickly pulled back after each recoil so that the advancing Americans could not capture it. Shot after shot was thus sent into the ranks of the Americans who, by that time, were thoroughly confused.

Re-Uses Cannon Balls

But, reflected Carrillo, what would happen when the ammunitnon ran out. He dispatched some of his superb horsemen to the rear of the American lines, not to attack the invaders but to retrieve the cannon balls which the Californians had fired and which were badly needed to keep the battle going. Once brought back to the ranks of the Californians, these cannon balls were used again and again while Carillo's cavalry could be seen darting in and out through the sand and dust whirled up by the battle and the objects pulled by some of the Californians' horses.

The Americans never got closer to Los Angeles that what is today the interesction of Manchester Avenue and South Figueroa street and Gillespie finally gave the signal to retreat. While the Americans were on their way back to San Pedro, Carrillo fired an occasional cannot ball into the ranks.

In all, six American soldiers and two or three Californians were killed in the battle. These six, the first American soldiers killed in the conquest of California, were subsequently buried on a sandy little island off San Pedro which was called, in their honor, La Isla de los Muertos (The Island of the Dead). However, when Los Angeles harbor was enlarged, the tiny island was washed away.

Former Mt. Miguel Exchange Students Now Back Home in Europe and Panama Keep in Contact with Schoolmates Here

Mount Miguel High Matadors have been brought up to date on their former international schoolmates.

During a recent A.F.S. assembly Mrs. Dwight Putnam, district A.F.S. chairman, gave Miguelers a glimpse of what the exchange students of the last three years are doing. Catherine Barre, '61-'62 student, has returned to her native France where she is attending college in Paris. She wants to be an interpreter for the French government. Her immediate ambition is to be able to attend the A.F.S. international conference in New York this summer.

Edwardo Leira, also a '61-'62 student, is back in Madrid, Spain, where he is attending a college of architecture. The college had more than three hundred and fifty applicants of which only twenty were accepted and of these Edwardo was third on the list of admittees. Edwardo was strongly impressed with the great opportunities offered to all after his year in America. For this reason he has organized a group of college youth who are going out into the countryside of Madrid to teach older people to read and write.

Lilian Weiss from Sweden, a '61-'62 exchange, is now in her country studying to be a doctor. Lilian, too, has great hopes of getting to the A.F.S. conference in New York this summer and from there, getting to Miguel for a few days.

Sonmez Ozurek, Miguel's other '61-'62 foreign student is studying law in his native Turkey. Sonmez misses Miguel a great deal and has his foster mother mail him a copy of Miguel's paper after each publication.

Mikko Pyhala, who represented Finland at Miguel during the '62-'63 school year, was a little younger than is usual for the program; consequently, he is finishing his senior year of high school. Mikko's great dream had always been to publish a newspaper. Now he is not only publishing one but is writing all the copy, editing it, selling ads to support it, and taking care of all the other duties for publishing his one-man paper. He recently got very homesick for the United States and Miguel so he told Mrs. Putnam that he went downtown and searched through a big department store until he found a car of chili con carne which he purchased as a reminder of him American home.

The other '62-'63 student at Miguel was Naomi Chang from Panama. Naomi has written her American parents at Miguel asking if they and other Americans feel differently about her now that the Panamanian American trouble has broken out. Mrs. Putnam has requested that all Miguel students write Naomi "warm" letters of friendship. "Let's barrage her with our friendship," requested Mrs. Putnam. This idea has now swung into a full scale campaign on the Miguel campus. The director general of the American A.F.S. program was at Kearney when the campaign was proposed and has decided that all letters which students are willing to have read will be carried to the newspapers and even to the state department in recognition of Miguel's "mighty friendship". The International club has agreed to pay the cost of mailing for students unable to do so. And so, great numbers of Matadors are getting out their paper and pens to express their's and America's friendship to a former Miguel student in Panama.

Helix Junior Class Hopes to Clean Up With Pie Contest

Having a pie-eating contest is a messy way to clean up a campus, but the Helix High School Junior Class is going to try it.

The contest will be held to see which Helix student can gobble up a pie the fastest, but its main purpose will be to publicize Clean Campus Day, Feb. 13.

Cindy Walker, Junior Class Service Committee chairman, said no forks or spoons may be used and the first student to finish his pie "licking clean" will be the winner.

Each contestant must also participate in the collection of litter preceding the contest which will be held after school.

The winner among the finalists will receive a tank of gas.

Spectators will be charged 15 cents and they must also participate in the campus clean-up.

"We hope that mixing some good clean fun with cleaning up the campus will encourage the students to keep the school neat all of the time," Candy said.

To Try For 90% In Savings Bond Program Here

"Lemon Grove Post Office employees joined fellow workers in their region this week to become the first federal agency to kick off its 1964 Savings Bond drive," Postmaster Frenchy Faucher announced.

"More than 55,000 postal workers in California, Nevada, Hawaii, and the Pacific Islands are taking part in the drive to increase regular purchase of Savings Bonds through automatic payroll deduction. He explained that when the drive ends on February 28, "we hope to have 90% of the employees in the Lemon Grove post office signed up as Bond buyers."

"Nationally, Savings Bonds drives among employees of industry, business and government are set for May 1 through July 4. Theme of the drives will be Operation Security," the Postmaster said. "Buying bonds contributes to the financial security of both family and nation," he said.

Raymond R. Holmquist of San Francisco, regional director for the Post Office Department, is heading the drive. Postmaster Faucher is local drive chairman, assisted by Dale Willey, Carrier and Dave Engle.

James Utt To Speak At Young Republican Convention Saturday

The Young Republicans of California will gather for their 1964 State Convention at El Cortez Hotel in San Diego on Feb. 14-16. Young Republicans representing every county in the state will meet to adopt resolutions and to nominate and select new officers for 1964.

Congressman James B. Utt will use as his title "The American Way of Life".

Robert A. Gaston, conservative attorney from Los Angeles and chairman of the Young Republicans of California, will introduce actor Ronald Reagan, keynote speaker of the Convention. Reagan's theme will be that of the convention, "Do More In '64".

Reagan will deliver the keynote address at the banquet in the International Room, Saturday, at 7 p.m.

Mr. Reagan will discuss the two philosophies dividing the American people along party lines. The one, as represented by the Democratic Party, believes in a planned economy by the intellectual elite. The other, a reaffirmation of individual freedom and faith in the individual's ability to plan his own life, is represented by the Republican Party.

Tickets will be available to the public in the lobby of El Cortez Hotel, beginning Feb. 14, or by contacting Mrs. Charles H. Blair of El Cajon and all Republican Volunteer organizations.

LG Woman Wins NC Injury Suit

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — A 70-year-old Lemon Grove woman has been awarded $7,000 from National City for injuries she suffered on March 6, 1962, when she stepped into a hole in a sidewalk at 24 9th st.

She is Mrs. Katherine Kasinger, 1571 Skyline dr., who had sued for $20,000. She testified that the hole was four or five inches deep and about 20 inches in diameter. She said her arm was injured.

The city was handicapped in the trial because of inadequate records of sidewalk maintenence, a situation that has apparently been corrected.

Mrs. Kassinger said she had gone to National City with a neighbor to shop. She said she was taken to Paradise Valley Hospital and that she had to undergo two operations on her arm.

Local Dairyman At State Conclave

Nine area dairy farmers, all directors of District 11 of the American Dairy Association of California, are official delegates to the annual meeting of their association, to be held Feb. 19 and 20, at the Sacramento Inn, Sacramento.

Among the group is Pete Miller, operator of Miller's Dairy in Lemon Grove. They will join with delegates and members from 13 other California districts for the two day meeting.

The first day will be devoted to a speakers' agenda. The State's director of Agriculture and the chief of the dairy division will be among the speakers. The National and the California Dairy Princesses will be presented on the second day of the meeting.

HEART FUND GIFTS

Gifts to the San Diego County Heart Association Memorial Fund totaled $3,217.14 during January and 420 individual gifts comprised this sum, Dr. Paul H. Morton, president of the association announced.

"Many persons are putting new and deeper meaning in birthday, anniversary, holiday and memorial remembrance through a contribution to the Heart Fund. This type of memorial contribution is a long lasting tribute to friends or relatives because it supports research, education and community services to improve heart health of everyone", Dr. Morton said.

He added that the person remembered by a memorial gift or his family is always sent a card indicating who made the tribute, but no mention of amount of the gift is ever made.

Tributes in honor of the following have been made in the Lemon Grove area: Claudia Cornish, 7371 Mt. Vernon street, Harry F. Egan, 2606 Bonita st., Edna Farley, 8150 Jefferson, Ada Godfrey, 8056 Canton dr., Mabel Kendrick, 1894 El Dora, John F. Krupens, 2095 Imperial avenue, and Glen McMorrow, 8020 Lincoln.

Also, Lena Prevost, 3055 Bancroft dr., Spring Valley.

114 Students Have A Whale of a Time

"Whale Ho!" was the cry of 114 Mount Miguel students earlier this month.

The whale hunters, members of Miguel's biology classes, spent two hours in the waters around Point Loma searching for their quarry. The group went on two chartered boats, the Sea Biscuit and the Betty Lou.

Those on the two-decked Betty Lou, which carried the majority of the eager hunters, saw only one whale. They followed their quarry for about an hour and a half before they had to return to land. "Our whale surfaced an average of every five minutes," one enthusiastic huntress commented, "but we could only see the middle and back half!" The frequent surfacing allowed eager shutterbugs to capture the whale on film.

The little Sea Biscuit had better luck in her sightings. Its pursuers found three whales, a female and two males, traveling together. "The three usually came up together," reported Gary Letson who, with nine other adults, accompanied the whale seekers. The biology instructor said that one of the whales "broached water" or brought itself up out of the water like a fish. "Another of them surfaced about thirty feet from the boat," he continued, "but even though it was a thrilling experience, it was just a little too close!"

Some of the whale hunters spent a great deal of their voyage wearing a greenish color, discovering to their dismay that the seafaring life isn't for them. "It's a funny thing," Letson went on. "All the novice sailors were on the bigger, steadier boat! No one on the Sea Biscuit, which is by far the smaller boat, became ill."

For most of the Matador whalers, their whale trip was an instructive and fun-filled close to a week of final exams but there were those who were mighty glad to see dry land once again.
